1.The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2.Claims 1-3 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Withers in view of the admitted prior art as set forth in the specification at page 1 (Background Of The Invention) and Walt et al. as set forth in the previous Office action.

3.Claims 12-23 are allowed.

4.Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5.Applicant's arguments filed January 20, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant asserts that it seems to be a stretch that one skilled in the art of mogul machines for manufacturing starch molded products such as candy would look to the teachings of Walt et al. The examiner disagrees since Walt et al. are dealing with substantially the same problem, that of preventing outflow or spilling of filler material.

Applicant argues that Walt et al. teach the use of a drawn in upper edge 25, not lowering the level of the filler material below the top edge of a tray as (instantly) claimed. This is not persuasive because, in addition to using a drawn in upper edge, Walt et al. illustrate (in Figure 4) the aspect of keeping the filler material below the upper edge 25.

Applicant states that claim 1 recites "leveling the starch in the tray to a level below the top edge" and also argues that no such leveling operation appears in Walt et al. The examiner disagrees. Walt et al. at least suggest leveling since it is taught at column 6, lines 30-38 that heaps, such as 31a, may be dissipated or "blown away" and one of ordinary skill in the art would have realized that remaining filler material would form a substantially level layer.

6.THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

7.Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Allan Kuhns whose telephone number is (571) 272-1202. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Thursday from 7:00 to 5:30.
